

- 3 Which physical quantity would result from a calculation in which a potential difference is multiplied by an electric charge?
- A electric current
 - B electric energy
 - C electric field strength
 - D electric power

Space for working