

8 A resultant force causes an object to accelerate.

What is equal to the resultant force?

- A the acceleration of the object per unit mass
- B the change in kinetic energy of the object per unit time
- C the change in momentum of the object per unit time
- D the change in velocity of the object per unit time

9 An object falls from a stationary position and reaches terminal velocity.