

- 11 (a) high frequency wave
the amplitude or the frequency is varied the variation represents the information signal / in synchrony with (the displacement of) the information signal.
- B1
M1
A1 [3]

Page 6	Mark Scheme	Syllabus	Paper
	GCE AS/A LEVEL – October/November 2012	9702	43

- (b) e.g. shorter aerial required longer transmission range / lower transmitter power / less attenuation allows more than one station in a region less distortion
(allow any three sensible suggestions, 1 mark each)

B3 [3]

- 12 (a) (i) e.g. linking a (land) telephone to the (local) exchange

B1 [1]