

Question	Answer	Marks
10	Any five points from: • as temperature rises electrons gain energy • electrons enter conduction band • (positively charged) holes left in valence band • more charge carriers (so resistance decreases) • (as temperature rises,) lattice vibrations increase • effect of increase in number of electrons or holes or charge carriers outweighs effect of increased lattice vibrations (so resistance decreases)	B5

9702/41

Cambridge International AS/A Level – Mark Scheme

October/November 2018

PUBLISHED

Question	Answer	Marks
11(c)	discrete amount/quantum/packet of energy	M1